MINI-UNIVERSITY
Summer Program

Open to any Indigenous youth, First Nations (status or non status), Métis, Inuit.

2018
YEAR OF WIND

Western UNIVERSITY · CANADA
Join our leadership program and become a university student for a week while staying in residence on campus. Youth will connect with the theme of wind while enhancing their understanding of identity, culture, and living in balance using the foundation of the 7 sacred Anishinaabe teachings.

They will broaden their knowledge in all areas of study such as science, health science, engineering, medicine, nursing, dentistry, arts, humanities, social sciences, business, education, and law. They will gain leadership skills while problem solving with their peers and learn about pathways to education.

Western University is located in the traditional territory of the Attawandaran (Neutral) peoples and in close proximity to three vibrant nations today: Anishinaabe from Chippewa of the Thames, Haudenosaunee from Oneida Nation of the Thames, and Leni-Lunaape from Munsee-Delaware Nation.
General Information

Program and Selection Process:

There are 25 spots available, selected applicants will be notified by telephone and email by June 8, 2018. There is a $75 fee that covers accommodations, meals, snacks, and evening activities.

Once they have received their offer successful applicants and their guardians are encouraged to attend an information session. Here they will learn about the fine details of the program, submit their $75 fee and registration paperwork. The dates will be set when offers are sent out, if you are unable to attend other arrangements can be made.

Safety Features

Counsellors are hired and supervised through Western’s Indigenous Services, a ratio of 1 counsellor to every 5 youth. They plan, help to deliver all programming and are available 24 hours a day. The counsellors accompany youth at all times and stay in the residence with them. They are certified in CPR and Standard First Aid, leadership training, and must pass a Vulnerable Sector Screening.
